
Aesop and Myer

Announcing an exclusive partnership

With great pleasure, Aesop and Myer announce a fresh evolution in their relationship—in September, Myer will become Aesop's exclusive department store stockist in Australia.

Aesop will expand its existing business with Myer by opening three additional Aesop Myer counters across the country, allowing valued clients even greater access to its distinctive products and services.

"Myer has had a long-standing relationship with Aesop and we are thrilled to announce that Myer will be the exclusive department store stockist of Aesop in Australia from September," said Sue Price, Myer's Group General Manager Cosmetics.

"Myer is the ultimate beauty destination in the Australian market and the announcement of this exclusive partnership with Aesop adds further strength to our already compelling beauty and grooming offer. Aesop is now available in eleven of our stores and online. We have just opened four new counters, and we will expand the brand into additional Myer stores over the coming months, each with its own unique interior design. We know our valued Myer customers will be excited to be able to experience this sought-after brand and its premium quality product and service offer in more of our stores."

At each counter, existing and forthcoming, knowledgeable Aesop consultants will be pleased to demonstrate formulations and to offer personalised skin care recommendations.
